MESSAGE FROM THE BISHOP

Dear Readers,

I am pleased to extend my warm greetings to the management, faculty, students, and staff of Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science on the occasion of the publication of the annual college magazine, Gregorian, for the Academic Year 2025–2026.

As the institution approaches three decades of dedicated academic service, it is truly commendable that Mar Gregorios College continues to nurture an environment of intellectual inquiry, disciplined learning, and ethical formation.

The unwavering commitment of the management, the scholarly dedication of the faculty, and the enthusiastic participation of the students have collectively contributed to the College's steady growth and well-earned reputation.

This magazine serves as a valuable academic record, reflecting the scholarly pursuits, creative expressions, and significant milestones achieved during the year. May it inspire critical thinking, responsible leadership, and a deeper commitment to the pursuit of knowledge in the service of society.

I invoke God's abundant blessings upon the entire academic community and wish Mar Gregorios College continued excellence and success in its noble educational mission.

With gratitude and prayers,

Mathews Mar Pachomios OIC,

Eparchial Bishop

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

Dear Readers,

As we flip through the pages of this new edition, I'm reminded of the unwavering promise Jeremiah 29:11 - "For I know the plans I have for you... plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

This magazine is more than just a collection of stories and updates – it's a testament to the incredible journey we're on together. From the tireless efforts of our students to the dedication of our committee, every page reflects the passion and purpose that drives us.

In these pages, you'll find tales of growth, milestones achieved, and initiatives that are shaping the future of our college. It's a celebration of what's possible when we come together, united in our pursuit of excellence.

I'd like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to everyone involved in bringing this magazine to life. Your creativity, hard work, and commitment are the heartbeat of this publication.

As you read through this edition, may you be inspired by the stories, motivated by the achievements, and reminded of the hope we share. Let's continue to walk this path together, trusting in the plans God has for us.

May this magazine be a beacon of hope and a reminder of our shared purpose.

Best Wishes

Rev. Fr. Mathew Pallikunnel

Secretary

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Growing Together, Rising Higher: A Message from the Principal

Dear Students, Faculty, Staff, and Well-Wishers,

It is with pride and gratitude that I welcome you to this year's edition of our college magazine. Each volume we publish is more than a collection of articles and photographs — it is a mirror of our journey, our shared efforts, and our collective growth. Over the past academic year, our campus has been alive with energy, aspiration, and purposeful learning. Classrooms have sparked thoughtful conversations. Departments have hosted seminars, workshops, and extension activities. Students have stepped beyond academic boundaries — engaging in internships, community outreach, research initiatives, cultural forums, and skill development programmes. In every corner of the campus, learning has been active, dynamic, and meaningful.

One of the proud highlights of the year has been our strong academic performance at the University level. Securing multiple ranks across disciplines — including consecutive First Rank distinctions in the M.S.W. programme — reflects the consistency, dedication, and mentoring culture that define our institution. These accomplishments are not isolated successes; they are the result of sustained effort, discipline, and teamwork between students and faculty.

Yet, as we celebrate academic excellence, we also recognize that true education goes far beyond ranks and results. It is seen in the confidence of a student presenting a paper for the first time. It is heard in the thoughtful discussions during social outreach programmes. It is felt in the empathy shown by our Social Work students in the community, in the analytical thinking of our Commerce students, and in the creativity displayed across departments.

These moments shape character, not just careers. This year has also reminded us of the importance of adaptability. In an evolving educational landscape shaped by technological advancements, industry expectations, and national educational reforms, we continue to strengthen our commitment to quality, inclusivity, and relevance. We aim not merely to prepare students for examinations, but to prepare them for life — with competence, confidence, and a strong moral compass.

I extend my sincere appreciation to our dedicated faculty members and staff who work tirelessly behind the scenes to create an environment where excellence becomes a habit and integrity a shared value. I also thank our students, whose curiosity and determination give purpose to everything we do.

As you turn the pages of this magazine, you will encounter stories of achievement, creativity, resilience, and service. May these stories inspire you to aim higher, think deeper, and contribute meaningfully to society. Let us continue to grow together — not only in knowledge, but in wisdom; not only in achievement, but in character. The future belongs to those who are prepared, principled, and purposeful. Together, we will continue to build that future.

With warm regards and renewed optimism,

Dr.R.Srikanth

Principal

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF ACADEMICS

It gives me great joy to present this year's College Magazine centered on the theme "Igniting Minds, Inspiring Futures."

Education is not merely the transfer of information; it is the awakening of intellect and the shaping of character. When young minds are ignited with curiosity, discipline, creativity, and purpose, they become beacons of transformation for society. Our institution strives to nurture not only academic excellence but also integrity, compassion, and leadership.

Each page of this magazine reflects the spark within our students — their research pursuits, literary talents, cultural achievements, innovative ideas, and social responsibility initiatives. These contributions are not just expressions of talent; they are signs of emerging leaders who will shape the future with wisdom and responsibility.

In an era of rapid technological advancement and global challenges, it is essential that education instills critical thinking, ethical grounding, and a commitment to lifelong learning. As educators, our role is to kindle that flame of inquiry. As students, your responsibility is to carry that flame forward and illuminate the world around you.

I commend the editorial board, faculty mentors, and student contributors for their dedication and collaborative effort in bringing out this meaningful publication. Your work exemplifies teamwork, perseverance, and excellence.

May this magazine continue to inspire every reader to pursue knowledge with passion, serve society with humility, and build a future founded on values and vision.

With warm regards and best wishes for continued success.

Prof. Titty Elizabeth Phillips

Director of Academics

MESSAGE FROM IQAC COORDINATOR

It gives me immense pleasure to present this edition of the college magazine of Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science, a vibrant platform that showcases the intellectual curiosity, creativity, and achievements of our students and faculty.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) remains committed to nurturing a culture of quality, innovation, and continuous improvement within the institution. Guided by the framework of the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), IQAC works diligently to enhance academic standards, strengthen research initiatives, promote student-centric learning practices, and ensure effective governance.

At Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science, we believe that education extends beyond the classroom. This magazine reflects the holistic development of our students—their talents in literature, arts, research, social outreach, and leadership. It is a testimony to the dynamic and collaborative spirit that defines our academic community.

Quality is a continuous journey, and through sustained efforts, innovation, and teamwork, we strive to uphold the values and vision of our institution. I sincerely appreciate the editorial team, contributors, and faculty members whose dedication has made this publication possible.

May this magazine inspire all of us to pursue excellence, uphold integrity, and contribute meaningfully to society.

Wishing everyone continued success and growth.

ANNUAL REPORT 2025–2026

Principal's Message

"Education is the foundation upon which societies progress, ideas flourish, and futures are shaped."

It is with great pride that I present the Annual Report of Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science for the academic year 2025–2026. The year has been marked by meaningful achievements, academic distinction, and steady institutional growth, reflecting our collective commitment to excellence in higher education.

As we continue our legacy of nearly three decades of dedicated service in education, our institution remains steadfast in its mission to nurture young minds with knowledge, skills, and values that empower them to contribute responsibly to society. Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science has steadily evolved into a dynamic learning community where intellectual curiosity, ethical leadership, and professional competence are actively cultivated.

The academic year witnessed remarkable accomplishments by our students, including the securing of University Ranks and commendable academic results, which stand as a testimony to their dedication and the tireless guidance of our faculty. Equally encouraging has been the academic advancement of several faculty members who successfully completed their Doctoral Degrees, further strengthening the research culture and academic vibrancy of the institution.

In a rapidly changing educational landscape shaped by technological advancement and the vision of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, our college continues to embrace innovation through industry-relevant programmes, skill-based certificate courses, and interdisciplinary learning initiatives. These efforts ensure that our students are equipped not only with academic knowledge but also with the competencies required to thrive in the modern professional world.

Beyond academics, our students have actively distinguished themselves in cultural activities, sports, leadership initiatives, and community engagement, reflecting the holistic educational philosophy that defines our institution.

The progress of Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science is the result of the collective dedication of our visionary management, committed faculty, hardworking staff, enthusiastic students, and supportive parents and alumni. Their unwavering support continues to inspire us to pursue higher standards of excellence.

As we look toward the future, we remain committed to strengthening academic quality, promoting research and innovation, and creating learning opportunities that prepare our students to become competent professionals, responsible citizens, and leaders of tomorrow.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to everyone who contributes to the continued growth and reputation of our institution. Together, let us move forward with renewed confidence and determination toward another year of achievement, innovation, and transformative education.

Warm regards,

Dr. R. Srikanth

YOUTH RED CROSS

MGC-YRC in Association Cancer Institute, Adyar, Government Stanley Medical College and Hospital and Chennai YUVA organised a Voluntary Blood Donation Camp on 6th January, 2026 at Mar Ivanios Hall between 10 am to 2 pm. The Chief Guest Dr. Ruth Jenila MD., Assistant Professor from Stanley Hospital and Medical College, delivered an awareness talk on the importance of blood donation, aiming to educate students and dispel fears related to the process. A total of 92 units of blood were voluntarily donated by the students. The collected blood will be utilized for the treatment of cancer patients, thereby contributing to saving valuable lives.

The camp was conducted smoothly with the support of medical professionals and student volunteers, ensuring safe and systematic blood collection. The Medical Team appreciated the students who voluntarily donated blood and issued certificate.

A General Eye Check-up Camp was organized at Mar Ivanios Hall on 29th January, 2026 between 10 am to 2 pm, by MGC YRC in association with Dr. Agarwal's Eye Hospital, Mogappair West, Chennai-37. The medical team from Dr. Agarwal's Eye Hospital, comprising qualified ophthalmologists, optometrists, and supporting staff, conducted comprehensive eye examinations including vision testing, refraction checks, and preliminary diagnosis of common eye conditions. The camp witnessed an encouraging response, with 200 students and 22 staff members benefiting from the free eye check-up services. Individuals identified with vision issues were advised appropriate corrective measures, further diagnostic tests, or follow-up consultations at Dr. Agarwal's Eye Hospital.

SOCIAL EXCELLENCE CELL

The Social Excellence Cell, in association with the PG Department of Social Work and IQAC, observed Rose Day on 26th September 2025 to express solidarity and compassion towards cancer patients. As part of the event, the MSW I Year students took the initiative to design and set up a DIY photobooth on campus. This creative space provided an opportunity for both staff and students of MGC to take pictures, symbolising their concern and moral support for cancer warriors. In addition, participants wrote positive and hopeful notes for cancer patients, which were displayed on a board. This activity not only spread awareness about cancer but also encouraged the community to stand together in support of those fighting the disease. The event successfully combined creativity, compassion, and awareness-building, leaving a meaningful impact on the MGC community.

Both sessions were interesting and informative, creating awareness among students and staff about mutual funds, financial goals, and their importance.

WOMEN CELL

An awareness program on menstrual disorders among adults was conducted at our college with the support of the Tamil Nadu Dr. M.G.R. Medical University. The main objective of the program was to educate girl students about menstrual health, common menstrual disorders, and the importance of seeking medical advice when necessary. The session was led by Dr. Ashwini, who served as the resource person for the program. She delivered an informative talk explaining various menstrual disorders that women may experience during adolescence and adulthood. Her presentation helped students understand that menstrual health is an important aspect of overall well-being.

The Centre for Women's Development of Mar Gregorios College of Arts & Science, Chennai, organized a Women's Day Celebration on 9th March 2026 at 12.00 noon at Mar Ivanios Hall. The program was conducted to celebrate the achievements of women and to recognize their contributions to society in connection with International Women's Day. The event commenced with a warm welcome to the gathering. Faculty members, students, and non-teaching staff participated enthusiastically in the celebration. The program aimed to highlight the importance of women's empowerment, equality, and recognition of women's achievements in different fields.

The Chief Guest, Ms. Sharadha Sandilya, an Independent Soft Skills Consultant, addressed the audience. In her speech, she emphasized the importance of self-confidence, communication skills, and continuous learning for women to achieve success in their personal and professional lives. Her motivational talk encouraged the students and staff to believe in their abilities and strive for excellence. A special highlight of the event was the presentation of the "Visista Puraskar" to distinguished alumni who have made notable contributions in their respective fields.

The award recipients were, Mr. Manjunath Thandu, CEO of Zivoke LLC and an alumnus of the college. Ms. Anupriya LN, associated with Sevalaya and an alumna of the institution. Their achievements were appreciated and highlighted as an inspiration for the students and the college community.

The program also featured a Talk Show, which was anchored by Dr. A. Aruntamilayazhini, Radio Jockey at Rainbow FM 101.4. The talk show created an engaging platform to discuss women's empowerment, career development, and the challenges faced by women in society. The event was organized under the guidance of Director of Academic Prof. T. E. Phillips, Convenor of the Program Dr. Jemila Marshal and Co-Convenor Dr. A. Shamim Banu.

PRAYER CELL

The Prayer Cell of the college organized the Commemoration Day of Rev. Fr. K.C. George, S.J., former Principal and Director, on 19th September 2025 at the College Conference Hall. WHEN TEACHING MEETS COMPASSION: A TEACHERS'S REFLECTION

My Passion for teaching began at the age of ten. During my childhood, I would drape a saree, hold a stick, and stand in my empty room, imagining a class full of students. I would imitate the role of a teacher with great enthusiasm. From that moment, teaching became more than just a playful act- it grew into a deep passion.

Over time, this passion was strengthened by the teachers I admired. One such inspiration was my +2 Principal -Mrs.Leelavathy, a calm yet strong mentor. She carried herself with confidence and boldness. What impressed me most was her approach- she never discussed financial issues like school fees with students.

During my undergraduate days, I began to observe how kindness and clarity in teaching could create a huge difference in student's learning experiences. Later, In my post graduate studies, I was fortunate to be guided by my mentor, Dr. U. Vijaya Banu. She molded me into a person of self esteem and confidence. I Strongly believe that the way a teacher present herself can inspire students and truly become a change maker. Dr. U. Vijaya Banu was the change- maker in my life.

When I began my teaching career, I carried all these inspirations with me. I live strongly by the quote: “Education is the greatest weapon for success”. On my very first day as a teacher, I experienced mixed emotions – it was thoughtful, challenging, and exciting at the same time. The curiosity in my students' eyes made me determined to become better day by day.

For me, Teaching is not about entering a class, delivering a lesson, and learning. It is about inspiring students, shaping their values and preparing them for life. I usually follow a detailed and interactive teaching style, making sure learning is engaging and fun. I often use movie examples and real – life lessons to keep students connected and motivated.

My unique style of teaching especially focuses on kindness and compliments. Though small these gestures create a huge impact on students lives because we never truly know what struggles they are facing. I believe kindness can heal, motivate and inspire. Despite life's challenges, I make it a point to enter my class every day with a smile and a positive approach, because this energy can transform the atmosphere and uplift my students.

My Motto is simple yet powerful: To motivate students not only to excel in academics but also to succeed in life with strong self – esteem and confidence. By identifying their unique strengths, I aim to help them grow into responsible and confident individuals who can make a positive impact on society.

I Strongly believe that when our teaching foundation is strong, student's respect is automatically earned. With that note, I would like to conclude with my favorite line: “Work hard until you no longer have to introduce yourself”.

Gift of life

A wealthy merchant once tested positive for COVID-19. He was admitted to a well-equipped hospital, where doctors and nurses cared for him day and night. For seven days, he lay on a ventilator, fighting to breathe. By God's mercy, he recovered and was finally ready to be discharged.

At the counter, the cashier handed him the bill — 21 lakhs. The merchant was stunned. Smiling politely, the lady said, "You are a man of wealth and influence, with many businesses. Surely this amount is nothing for you."

The merchant replied softly, "I am not worried about paying the bill. What shocks me is this: for seven days of oxygen, you have charged me seven lakhs. Yet from the day I was born, for sixty-five years, God has given me oxygen freely, every second of my life. If seven days cost this much, I cannot imagine how great my debt to Him must be."

The Story of Forgiveness and Strength

In 1991, Ratan Tata took over as Chairman of the Tata Group with a dream—to build India's first fully indigenous car without relying on imported technology.

After years of effort, Tata Motors launched the Indica in 1998. But the car struggled in its early days. Sales were poor, and criticism was high. Soon, Tata Motors considered selling the passenger car division.

At that time, Ford expressed interest in buying it. Ratan Tata, along with his board, flew to Detroit for discussions. During the meeting, Bill Ford is said to have remarked, "You don't know anything about the car business. Why did you even get into it?"

Ratan Tata stayed silent. He did not argue. The very next day, instead of continuing the talks, he quietly returned to India. But he did not give up. Instead, he poured all his energy into improving Tata Motors. Slowly, with determination, the company refined its cars, and Tata Motors began to earn respect both in India and abroad.

Then, in 2008, history took a remarkable turn. Ford itself was struggling, and its luxury brands—Jaguar and Land Rover—were on the brink of collapse. This time, it was Tata Motors that stepped forward, buying both marques for US$ 2.3 billion.

When the deal was signed, Bill Ford told Ratan Tata, "You are doing us a favor by buying these brands." And yet, Ratan Tata chose silence again. He could have reminded Ford of the insult years ago, but he didn't. Instead, he lived by a greater truth:

"If there is a line drawn and you want to make it small, you don't have to rub it off. You draw a bigger line. So if someone has hurt you, the best way to repay the hurt is to become better."

That is the story of forgiveness—not through words, but through strength, humility, and success.
